

b. Approximation 2a

The 10 g (100 g) of wood from the Becky is composed of the two components of the wood, which are cellulose and lignin. The cellulose and lignin components are both composed of carbon and hydrogen, and the cellulose is also composed of oxygen.

c. Mass of Becky

100g (100g)

100g (100g)

100g (100g)

The cell is a piece of wood from the 100 g (100 g) of wood from the Becky. The cell is composed of cellulose and lignin, and the cellulose is also composed of oxygen. The cell is composed of cellulose and lignin, and the cellulose is also composed of oxygen.