

Interface measurement

- With the float measuring it is possible to detect the surface level of every liquid
- TLI can also be used as interface measurement between two liquids with a density deviation of minimum  $0.1\text{g/cm}^3$

